My Good Practice in Learning is…

LEARNIN

Use methods of memorization such as the memory palace or be careful during the lesson.

Taking and making notes

I think that the simplest method is the best one too. It is often applicable and can be done on your own way.

Flash card and maps

i thing is a good way to learn something, maeby with some references in the maps to help the brain to do the right connection between the things you already know and the thing you don't know

Taking and making notes

I find this method best as when I am writing I find it much easier to remember. I also like this method because I am free to use my creativity e.g. by adding a drawing or by using different colours.

Taking & making notes

It is easier for me to understand and memorise content when I take and customise my own notes.

Circle time e discussion per me è la pratica migliore perché attraverso il confronto con l'altro riesco a conoscere svariati argomenti di cui non ne ero a conoscenza oppure di cui ne ho ampliata

Flash cards and mind maps

I find that work best for me as I have a mostly photography memory, so I find I learn better with them.

6 thinking hats

It made me think of 6 different perspectives of an experience. I will use it when I only see the negative of something.

Taking& making notes

For me taking and making notes is the best because helps you to memorize faster and you can do it on your own

Mind maps

For me, seeing everything in front of me as a picture of how it all relates makes me understand in the best way possible.

Flashcards, taking and making notes, and working out past papers

By taking notes, I write down what I need to learn, and by flashcards, I can quiz myself on what I need to know instead of asking for someone to ask me themselves. Past papers help to notice which questions come out most common and allow me to test myself, especially when giving them to a teacher to correct.

6 thinking hats

I chose this for it liner critical thinking which can narrow down idea and help to focus

Metodi di memorizzazione

Mind maps

Using mind maps makes learning and memorizing easier for me

Prendere appunti e fare mappe

Taking and making notes

I find it best when I write my own notes, especially if I use different coloured pens and drawings.

Flashcards

They make studying so much more efficient and active as you are constantly "testing" yourself to see what you know and what you don't know. This makes studying more engaging so I will be able to be stimulated and stay focused for longer.

Using methods of memorisation and taking and making notes.

I don't find it hard to memorise stuff so I like to memorise the most important stuff for an exam etc. When it comes to making and taking notes, I like to write imp stuff mentioned in class and adding on research I found online or in our book. I reading over notes to be the best way I learn.

Taking and making notes nad mind maps

I preferred these the most as they are two very simple methods that would alwyas come in handy whatever the situation is. They are also the simplest but have the biggest impact on learning.
